Sayyid Al-Hakeem: Turkey Important Country Within Regional, Islamic System, Role Needed for De-escalation

His Eminence Sayyid Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers' Alliance, received at H.E.'s office in Baghdad His Excellency the Turkish Ambassador to Iraq, Mr. Anıl Bora İnan, and discussed bilateral relations between the two countries and ways to activate joint agreements that serve the interests of the two friendly, neighboring peoples.

H.E. affirmed Turkey's importance within the regional and Islamic system, calling for de-escalation in the region and the restoration of calm and stability, so that the region's countries and peoples can enjoy its bounties.

H.E. affirmed that the Iraqi state is moving ahead in addressing the problem of weapons outside the framework of the state, explaining that the end of the International Coalition's mission is evidence of Iraq's recovery, and that the resolution of weapons outside the framework of the state must cover all types of weapons that fit this description.

H.E. affirmed the importance of the Development Road, stressing the need to capitalize on common ground and create opportunities that strengthen the partnership between the two countries and deepen the economic interests between them.
